Hosted by Arcadia Education, join us on Sunday 17th September 2017 discover more about the Landscape in Art in the picturesque surroundings of Barnsley House.

The genre of the landscape holds a special place in the history of the Western artistic canon. Not established as an official category of art in its own right until the early nineteenth-century, as per the theatrical backdrop, landscape vistas tended to serve as subsidiary settings for Biblical or Mythological subjects in paintings, as epitomised by the work of artistic heavyweights Nicolas Poussin & Claude Lorrain.

Come and explore it!
